

Journals are only part of the story

Research is changing. Users are exploring more content types than ever before, mixing newspapers, ebooks, video, documents, reports and more to strengthen research. Now, ProQuest makes it simple for libraries to build diverse content collections with three cross-searchable foundational resources, accessible via one award-winning* platform.

Academic researchers rely on diverse content (Q1 2017 research)

"In addition to scholarly journals, what other information sources do you use in your research?"

Responses from over 330 researchers worldwide: ProQuest Survey (whitepaper to be published Jun 2017)

Comprehensive coverage of key disciplines meet discoverability with three content-rich key resources – each building upon the other two with no overlap.

PROQUEST CENTRAL

The fastest growing and largest multidisciplinary research database available. Millions of ad-free, authentic, and often exclusive items are made easy for users of all skill levels to discover and share. In the last year alone, this resource updated 39 databases with 1,800 new periodical titles, and added 400 newspapers, 450,000 working papers and 44 million company records from Experian.

ACADEMIC COMPLETE

The first ebook subscription service of its kind continues evolving. Researchers benefit from unlimited multi-user access, and libraries enjoy superior admin and acquisition tools delivered on a platform built for books. Academic Complete has grown to 145,000+ titles from the largest pool of aggregated content available. Streamlined and selective, Academic Complete carries key publishers and CHOICE, Doody's, and RCL award-winning titles across diverse subjects tied to all levels of the academic curriculum, covering emerging topics, and matching graduation rate trending by degree program.

ACADEMIC VIDEO ONLINE

The most comprehensive video subscription offered to libraries. It delivers 62,000+ titles (17,000+ exclusively from Alexander Street) covering anthropology, arts, business, counseling, health, history and more. Curated for the educational experience, the massive depth of content and breadth of content-types (such as documentaries, films, demonstrations, etc.) included makes it useful for all types of patrons, giving libraries a high return on investment. Additionally, the Build by Choice feature automatically applies your subscription cost towards owning perpetual rights to your choice of titles. Most videos offer this option. The longer you subscribe, the more titles you own.

Talk to your ProQuest representative for details and free trials.

*Best Interface, 2015 Charleston Advisor Readers' Choice Awards

proquest.com

